

Albemarle Ballet Theater

Fifty Albemarle Ballet Theatre dancers performed (brilliantly) for the Studio of the Performing Arts 2007 Spring Dance Gala at Piedmont Virginia Community College's Dickinson Theatre June 2 and 3. The artistically diverse production included Etudes and Carnival of the Animals, alongside Gospel in Motion, a bluegrass work to Shady Grove, and an original work of Celtic, Indian, and Salsa/Flamenco called Tri, Tin, Tres. The photo of Etudes, above, includes local dancers Madeline Adams, Alex Berr, Caitlin Cosby, Tamar Guthertz, Nicole Hart, Veronica Hart, Kelly Knox, Ashley McCall-Geisler, Haley Neisser, Anna Rol, Elizabeth Rydland, Lara Spiekermann, Rachel Turner, and Lexi Vest.

Local Students Make History

After winning at the state-level competition in Williamsburg in April, four area students earned a chance to compete at the National History Day Competition at the University of Maryland in June.

Western Albemarle High School student Aaron Tobey won first place at the state competition in the Senior Individual Documentary category with his documentary "Beyond Jack's Shadow."

Henley Middle School students Hannah Chiarella and Alex Funk won first place at the state competition in the Junior Group Exhibit category for their project "Nero: Triumphant Ruler or Tragic Tyrant" and Paige Rammelcamp won first place for her Junior Individual Exhibit, "The Noble Experiment: the Triumph and Tragedy of Prohibition." All are rising 8th graders at Henley Middle School. Teacher Marcy Klug was their advisor.
